When Adath Emanu-El's Green Team came to me several months ago with a request about our Tashlich service, I was excited about what that might look like. But what is Tashlich, and why might I be excited about the Green Team's proposal?

The first time I experienced a Tashlich ceremony was when I was in Israel for my first year of rabbinical school. For Rosh Hashanah I stayed with a family that had made Aliyah from Afghanistan. I went to services with them in the morning, and in the afternoon, we walked to a small body of water where people stood reciting prayers. I had learned earlier about the ceremony of Tashlich, meaning "casting." It comes from the prophet Micah 7:19, who says, "[God] will take us back in love/ Quashing our iniquities./ You will hurl all our sins/ Into the depths of the sea."

I asked my Israeli host family, "don't people cast breadcrumbs into the water?" They explained that there are no crumbs, maybe just some lint in their pockets. Some people literally turn their pockets inside out while they recite these prayers of supplication.

Throughout my rabbinate, I have found the ceremony of Tashlich to be a meaningful and engaging rituals for people of all ages. With members of my synagogue, we have gathered at a body of water, which draws us out of the brick and mortar building and into nature. Using various liturgies over the years, we symbolically cast out our sins into the water, with breadcrumbs.

Yet breadcrumbs are not good for the living creatures who subsequently eat these pieces of bread. When both birds and fish eat bread, it fills their bellies without the proper nutrients they need. Depending on the ingredients, bread can be harmful not only to the animals, but also to our water sources.

So, beginning this year, at the request of Adath Emanu-El's Green Team, I'm delighted to share that we are not casting bread into the water on Tashlich. As we cast out our misdeeds, we will not further harm our environment.

The Ritual Committee then discussed, "what then might we cast into the water?" Their environmentally friendly solution: rice paper. The Green Team looked into it and bought sheets that will dissolve naturally in the water without harming the animals. And, if people choose, individuals might write down the transgressions on the rice paper in pencil, which is not harmful to wildlife, before they throw it into the water. Alternatively, people can tear the rice paper into small pieces, metaphorically tossing out each wrongdoing with each bit of paper.

This Rosh Hashanah, for first timers and return participants alike, I hope to see you at Adath Emanu-El's environmentally friendly Tashlich ceremony. It will take place on Saturday, September 12, at 3:30 pm in the backyard of one of our member's home (address given out at the synagogue), next to a creek.

Dave, Maddy, and I wish you and your loved ones a healthy, happy, and peaceful New Year in 5787.

L'shalom,
Rabbi Amy L. Memis-Foler

President's Message

Dear Adath Emanu-El Family,

As we prepare to welcome the High Holy Days and the beginning 5785, I find myself reflecting not only on the year that has passed, but on the journey we continue to take together as a community. Last year, as I wrote my first High Holy Day message as president, I spoke about reconnecting to our community, to our traditions, to one another, and to ourselves. This year, that idea feels even more personal. After a year of listening, learning, celebrating, navigating challenges, and spending countless hours with so many of you, I have come to appreciate an even deeper understanding of what makes Adath Emanu-El so special. It is 100%, without a doubt, the people.

It is the family who proudly watches their child become a B'nai Mitzvah. It is the excitement of welcoming a new baby into our congregation. It is the child walking into Religious School, the ECC student discovering something new, and the adult who continues to learn and grow in their Jewish journey. It is the laughter around a Shabbat oneg table, the conversations that continue long after a program has ended, and the familiar faces we look forward to seeing each week. It is also the way we are there for one another when life is not easy.

Over the past year, I have witnessed so many examples of kindness, compassion, generosity, and strength within our congregation. I have seen people step forward when help was needed, reach out to someone who was struggling, welcome someone who was new, and gave their time simply because they care. Those moments may not always make it onto the calendar or into a newsletter, but they are the moments that define who we are.

Serving as president has given me a unique view of our congregation. I have had the privilege of seeing the tremendous amount of work, often behind the scenes, that goes into making Adath Emanu-El the vibrant and caring community it is. Our clergy and staff, our Men's Club and Sisterhood, committee chairs, teachers, volunteers, and countless members give so much of themselves. They do it because they believe in this synagogue and in the importance of Jewish community. To all of you who give your time, your talents, your ideas, and your hearts...thank you! To those who have recently found a new way to become involved, I hope you know how much your participation matters. Sometimes it only takes one person saying, "I can help," to make a difference.

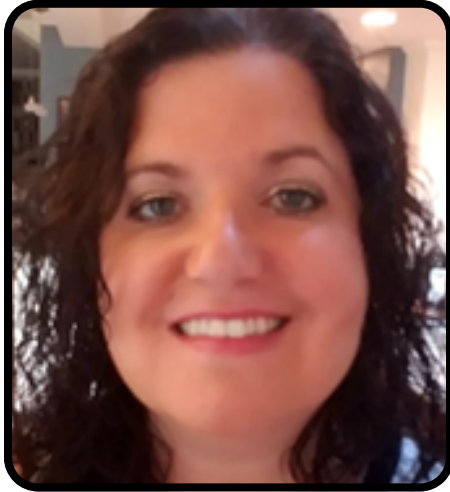

My hope for this coming year, as we hear the sound of the shofar together, is that we continue to find our way to one another. That we make time to get together, to celebrate, to listen to each other, and to support one another. That we continue to welcome more and more of those who are looking for a place to belong and make sure that they know that there is always a place for them here.

Wishing you and your loved ones a Shanah Tovah U'Metukah...a sweet, healthy, peaceful, and meaningful New Year.

L'Shalom,

Shira Y. Keet, President | president@adathemanuel.com

Religious School

It feels like it has been forever since the students, madrichim, and teachers have been back here at Adath! I am so excited to see everyone! Due to a VERY late Labor Day and our High Holiday schedule, we will kick off the 5787 school year with an “Intro Day” on September 27th. We are starting right at 9:00 am this year because we have a lot of items on the agenda. Students have class time and outside play time to build classroom communities. Parents have our annual Committee Fair in the Social hall to learn about ways to get involved at Adath Emanu-El. Parents and students together the teachers, Rabbi Memis-Foler, and Cantor Sandi will lead t’filah. Finally, parents will reunite with their children and attend the “Back to Shul Presentations.” This is a great opportunity for parents and students to meet their teachers and madrichim and learn about classroom expectations and curriculum. Then we start the regular school year with full days starting the following week, October 4th. We will have our usual delicious soft pretzels for snack, and hopefully enjoy our outdoor space for playing during break time.

We will still be using Google classroom as a means of communication and a place to post work. This is a very helpful tool if your child is absent due to illness or activities. Please make sure that you know how to log into Google classroom and check what is going on in your child’s classes throughout the year. We continue with our Family Education events, multiple Family Shabbat dinners and services throughout the year, and weekly 3rd grade Shabbat and 4th grade Havdalah during Religious School. We have 20 madrichim, ready to lend a hand and support the learning in our classrooms. We are excited to welcome them into our classes each week. Consecration, on September 25th will welcome our new students into their formal Jewish education.

There is still a lot of room for students to enroll for High Holiday Youth Programming on both Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur mornings. I also still have a few volunteer positions available for teens who are enrolled in Teen Night. Please sign up via the Adath website or contact me if you need any help.

We are so excited about seeing the children back at Adath again, welcoming quite a few new friends, and getting back into the routine of Jewish learning, friendship, and community. Hoping for a sweet and meaningful 5787.

L’Shalom,
Abby Wolf, Religious School Director

Early Childhood Center

Camp Shemesh has wrapped up another fabulous summer, and we are busy preparing for the 2026-2027 school year. Our teachers and students are both excited to begin a new school year which continues to offer comprehensive play based and Judaic curriculum. The concepts of Tikkun Olam and Tzedakah will also be highlighted in our classrooms as we learn about supporting local organizations. We are also very excited to continue with Soccer Shots (Coach Brian), Yoga (Morah Deanna) as well as Wee Play Language (Morah Susan).

The next two months will focus on friendship and our Fall Jewish holidays. This is my favorite time of year in the ECC as our students explore the holidays through literature, music, art, science, and of course plenty of apples and honey, not to mention the time we spend in our sukkah. These beginning months of school also allow our families to make connections with each other and our students to cultivate a love of school and learning. Please mark your calendar for Friday, October 2nd for our Tot Shabbat in the Sukkah!

I would like to take this opportunity to welcome back our Mt Laurel Universal PreK students and their families for our fourth year partnering with the school district.

Our ECC continues to grow, and we are looking for occasional substitutes. No prior teaching experience is needed, just a love for children, if you are interested in joining our preschool family, please reach out!

As Rosh Hashanah approaches, I want to wish everyone a year that is filled with good health, happiness, and love. L'Shanah Tovah.

L'Shalom,

Sisterhood

A Season of Renewal

The High Holy Days are a time for reflection, renewal, and new beginnings— a chance to celebrate what is working well while also imagining what is possible.

I can't think of a better way to describe what has been happening lately in Sisterhood. Over the past several months, we have been hard at work reimagining how Sisterhood serves our members and the congregation. While remaining rooted in the friendships, traditions, and values that have defined us for generations, we have also been embracing new ideas, new technology, and new opportunities to connect.

One of the biggest changes has been the launch of Zeffy, our new membership and event platform, making communication, registration, and payments easier than ever before. We have redesigned our communications so they are more informative and engaging, and we are using new tools to understand what our members enjoy so we can continue building programs that reflect their interests, while attracting new members as well.

Perhaps the transformation I am most excited about is our rebranded gift shop--Judaica & More. Thanks to the vision and dedication of an incredible team of volunteers, the shop has been completely refreshed. Merchandise has been reorganized and beautifully displayed, new inventory is being introduced, and we are creating a shopping experience that is welcoming, inspiring, and worth visiting throughout the year. When you are looking for Judaica, hostess gifts, jewelry, home décor, or something special to celebrate a life cycle event, I hope you will stop in and see what's new.

Whether you have been a member for decades or are just getting to know Sisterhood, I invite you to be part of this next chapter. Attend one of our new programs. Join us for Sips. Volunteer. Share an idea. Bring a friend. There is most definitely a place for everyone in Sisterhood.

The High Holy Days remind us that renewal begins with a single step. As this new year begins I hope you will take that step with us. On behalf of the entire Sisterhood Board, I wish you and your family a sweet, healthy, and joyful New Year.

L'Shanah Tovah!

Rummage Sale 2026

Sisterhood's Annual Rummage Sale on July 26 was another tremendous success, thanks to the incredible generosity of our donors, the tireless dedication of our volunteers, and the overwhelming support of everyone who came to shop.

In the weeks leading up to the sale, volunteers sorted, organized, priced, and displayed thousands of donated items, transforming the Social Hall into a welcoming indoor marketplace. Their enthusiasm, teamwork, and countless hours of service guided by the outstanding leadership of Janice Bate—made this year's sale possible.

The Rummage Sale is about much more than raising funds for Sisterhood. Unsold books, sporting equipment, pet supplies, clothing, and many other donated items were distributed to BookSmiles, Leveling the Playing Field, the Voorhees Animal Orphanage, St. Paul's homeless shelter, and Tru Partnership, extending the impact of our congregation's generosity well beyond the sale itself.

To everyone who donated, volunteered, and shopped, thank you! Your generosity, hard work, and commitment to helping others are what make this event—and our Sisterhood—so special.

See you at our next sale on July 25 2027!!

As Jews we should be encouraging others to vote, advocating for voting rights, and speaking up about important causes which can impact your family's daily life—from health care, to education, to the economy and more! A Jewish Ethics Challenge: Preparing our Hearts and Souls for the High Holy Days

Reflecting on Our Jewish Values

Who am I?
What do I value?

Based on the work of Arthur Gross Schofer, a professor of business law and ethics at Loyola Marymount University, Los Angeles, CA and rabbi of the UJA Jewish Community who developed the Eleven Core Jewish Values and the Strategy for Ethical Decision Making for the UAHHC Ethics Committee

WHERE DO YOU STAND?

- What ethical values do we use when making decisions?
- Are they consistent with our obligations as Jews?
- How can Jewish values guide us in making tough decisions?

Take the Ethics Challenge and see how your values compare with important Jewish considerations.

Join with us for a lively discussion and meaningful service to begin your High Holy Day season this year.

Skip the Stuff in New Jersey took effect August 1, 2026

Restaurants should only provide single-use cutlery and condiments if requested by customers and should use reusables for dine-in.

The Problem

It is estimated that 40 billion individual single-use plastic utensils are discarded every year in the United States. Plastic never decomposes but instead gets smaller and smaller as it breaks into micro and nanoplastics.

- Micro and nanoplastics have been found throughout the world, even in the most remote places like Mount Everest and the Arctic.
- Plastic is made from 16,000 different types of chemicals which can leach from products and migrate into our bodies through the air we breathe and food and water we consume. Toxins from plastic have recently been found making their way into our bloodstream, breast milk and fetus, and throughout our bodies.
- According to the National Institute of Health, manufacturing, transportation, use and decomposition of plastic is harmful to our health. It has been linked to numerous cancers, insulin resistance, decreased sex hormones and birth defects, neurological and mental health issues, asthma and other endocrine disruptors.
- Most utensils are unused and an unnecessary cost burden to restaurants. Since 2014, online food ordering has increased 300% faster than dine-in, furthering the plastic pollution problem.

The Solution

- Restaurants should only provide single-use cutlery and condiments for take-out orders if requested by customers and only reusable food ware should be provided for dine-in, saving restaurants by not purchasing unnecessary items and reducing clutter for customers and waste and toxins for the environment.

MANY thanks to those of you who have donated your reusable bags. To date we have taken 1,328 bags to the Betsy & Peter Fischer Food Pantry in Cherry Hill.

Jaclyn Horwitz

October 10, 2026

Jaclyn attends William Allen Middle School in Moorestown. She loves to play the flute, hang out with her friends, and bedazzle everything she can. For her Bat Mitzvah project, Jaclyn is baking sugar cookies and selling 6 for $10 to support a new shelter called Belly Rubs. It is a sanctuary for senior dogs and military hero dogs. Some of Jaclyn's favorite things are shopping- in-store and online, playing with fidgets, watching The Rookie, 911, Grey's Anatomy, and so many more. She loves to be with her Grammy and Ba (grandfather) and helps him play the flute and put together Legos. She follows in her sister Sari's footsteps, as she was called to the Torah in December 2023.
